Peace Unveiled follows three Afghan women—one a parliamentarian, another a former midwife, the third an activist—as they maneuver against formidable odds to have their voices heard at the peace table. Going behind closed doors, Peace Unveiled watches as the women's case is made to US officials, including Ambassador Karl Eikenberry, Ambassador-at-Large for Global Women's Issues Melanne Verveer, General David Petraeus and Secretary of State Hillary Clinton. Clinton herself admonishes that peace and justice “can't come at the cost of women and women's lives.” But can she enforce this commitment?

The screening will be followed by a panel discussion, speakers include:
