

WOMEN & CORRUPTION

Root Causes and Impact on Women's Potential

The event will focus on how corruption hampers the implementation of the 12 Critical Areas of Concern formulated within the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action. This Panel will examine how women can prevent victimisation by corruption, plus corruption interventions, individual and collective. Hereby, the event aims to mobilise organisations into action, create support networks for those affected by corruption, offer methods to dismantle gendered corruption, and propose actions to address the multifaceted effects corruption has on women, families and communities. Furthermore, the event will encourage a robust discussion, as a platform of exchange for women activists as a means to interact with in-country peers to tackle corruption local to global.

March
19
2021

4:30pm - 6:00pm Central
European Time (CET)

Registration to the NGO
CSW65 Virtual Forum is required to attend. Click HERE to add the event
to your agenda.

Panelists

- Jennifer Sarvary Bradford, United Nations (UN) Office of Drugs and Crime (UNODC), Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Officer
- Lena Wängnerud, Gothenburg University (Sweden), Professor in Political Science
- Monica Kirya, Think Tank U4, UN Representative, UNODC
- Lucia Bird, Global Initiative against Transnational Organised Crime, Senior Analyst
- Emilia Berazategui, Transparency International, Interim Head of Policy and Advocacy Secretariat

Moderator: Lois A. Herman, Women's UN Report Network (WUNRN), Managing Director

Welcome: Stacy Dry Lara, Graduate Women International (GWI), Executive Director

Organised by: GWI

Co-Sponsored by: WUNRN, NGO CSW Geneva